ALL HONOR TO SCANDINAVIANS

Everything is in readiness for the big celebration here Sunday and Monday. Thousands of visitors are expected to be in attendance weather permitting, and a grand, glorious, good time is anticipated. A splendid program has been prepared--there will be feasts for the mind and for the body, plenty of music, drives to our big schools, a baseball game and a grand dance at the tabernacle pavilion. The city will be in gala attire in honor of the occasion and the visitors will be extended a most gracious welcome. The city will be theirs.

Thousands Coming

Practically everything is in readiness for the Scandinavian celebration here tomorrow and Monday, and by tonight all arrangements will have been completed.

A magnificent triumphal arch has been erected at the west entrance to the tabernacle grounds, and the different committees say that the decorations all over the city tomorrow morning will be elaborate and extensive. The national colors of Denmark, Norway and Sweden will float from hundreds of homes and business houses, and over all will wave the Stars and Stripes.

The committees have worked unceasingly and enthusiastically and are sanguine of having a large number of visitors in the city during the two days' celebration. A special train of ten or more coaches is coming direct from Salt Lake; another will come from Ogden, stopping at all stations enroute; a third will come from Pocatello; and advices from the north say that the regular train on the branch to Preston will be crowded. There is no way of estimating correctly the number that may be here, but it is stated that the railroad officials are figuring on hauling not less than 6,000 people.

The trains will arrive here Sunday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock and at 9:30 there will be a grand procession from the station to the main part of the city. In order that matters may be carried out successfully and to the convenience of a large number of people, the active cooperation of all is asked, and the executive committee has issued the following

INVITATION

Everybody (all nationalities) are respectively requested to aid in conveying our thousands of guests from the depot to the Tabernacle, joining in the procession. Please go down to the depot down First North and First South Street and keep teams off Main and Center Streets in order to avoid accidents and confusions.

and the entire program for the two days is also found on this page. Every effort is being made to make it possible for the visitors to enjoy themselves thoroughly and it is hoped that the weather will make as great effort for their comfort, convenience and pleasure.

Some Facts Pertinent to the Celebration.

The story of the introduction of the gospel into Scandinavia, together with the resultant trials and struggles of the missionaries, is most interesting indeed, and an account of the same, as secured by us from the Historian's office at Salt Lake, will probably furnish some information not possessed by many in this vicinity.

At the conference here in the fall of 1849, it was decided that an effort should be made to open a station in Scandinavia and accordingly John Taylor, Erastus Snow and Peter O. Hansen left Zion in 1849, with that idea in view. The trip across the mountains at that time of the year was very hard and the men suffered privations and trials of all kinds until December 8th, when they reached the Missouri river. They worked their way through the states and in the early spring of 1850 sailed for England. They were wholly without purse or scrip and for sustenance depended upon kindness of the faithful in England, of whom there were about 32,000. The people there responded readily to the call for assistance, thus enabling the elders to continue their journey to Scandinavia. Before going, the three missionaries picked up a fourth, John P. Dykes, a brother who could speak both Norwegian and Swedish. On the 14th of June, the quartette arrived at Copenhagen, and opened their mission. This is the event that will be celebrated here Sunday and Monday.

The work progressed very nicely in Copenhagen. The first fifteen converts were baptized on the 12th of August, 1850, and on the 15th of September the same year a branch was organized, consisting of fifty members.

John Forsgren, who had also been with this company, went from Copenhagen to Sweden, and on April 24, 1853, organized the first branch in that country.

In 1851 a Norwegian sea captain came in contact with the missionaries at Copenhagen, became converted and insisted on taking Elder Snow to Norway with him. This was on the 11th of September and the following year there were three branches organized in Norway, the first one on the 16th of June, 1852. The brethren were so successful in their works, that they and their followers and during six months, the fall and winter of 1852-3, were compelled to remain in prison awaiting trial as to whether or not they were Christians. It was decided that they were not, but the prisoners were turned loose, some on bail and others because it was an expense to keep them. A law was passed prohibiting the preaching of "Mormonism" and baptisms into the faith, and even to this day that law is on the statute books of Norway.

WERE IMPRISONED

The elders then went to Sweden and opened a branch mission at Christiansa on December 8, 1853, and the work there and over the entire Swedish country has been very successful.

Denmark, however, has proved the best field for the missionaries, there being more converts from there than from both Norway and Sweden.

During the three years in which the original missionaries worked in Scandinavia, there were probably as many as 60 elders on the field, seven from Zion, the remainder being local missionaries. Through their efforts and the persistent energy of those who followed them, there are now 10 conferences and 5,000 Saints in the Scandinavian mission. About 75,000 have emigrated from that country to Zion.

Since the mission was opened in Copenhagen, 1500 missionaries have been sent from Utah into Scandinavia, and probably a like number of local missionaries have labored there. Of the original 60 missionaries, but fourteen are now living, whose names are as follows:

Bishop Christian J. Larsen.
C. G. Larsen, Castle Dale.
Jeppe F. Folkman, Gentle Valley, Ida.
A. W. Windberg, Salt Lake City.

Who Is Bateson?

He is the green grocery dealer on the west side of Main. He receives fresh bananas, oranges, cherries and strawberries each day--try them. Largest retail dealer in the state in fresh fish of all kinds.

Fish Law.

One of the best fishermen in Cache county has been commissioned to answer questions and give advice to any one buying fishing tackle at the Harris Music Store. The finest stock in town.

A Hearty Welcome

On Sunday and Monday, hundreds and possibly thousands of Scandinavians will be in our city for the purpose of celebrating the 50th anniversary of the introduction of the gospel into Scandinavia, and in behalf of the citizens of Logan and the valley, THE REPUBLICAN extends a most hearty and cordial welcome to one and all.

You will be among friends who love you, whose hearts are bound to your own by the ties of nativity, by the ties resultant from trials and struggles together, and our hearts; homes and institutions are opened wide that all who come may enter feeling that all is yours to command.

We honor you and welcome you for what you have done in the past, what you are at present and what you hope to be and accomplish in the future. As a people you are honest, upright, generous of heart, religious in temperament, and loyal to the faith which you have accepted. Lineal descendants of the Vikings, as some of you are; sired by men who produced such a posterity as Gustavus Adolphus, as others of you are, you have in your heart that daring of spirit and hardihood of nature that made these names famous. In leaving your native homes for the great unknown west, you have exhibited the courage of your ancestors, and in battling with and overcoming the great trials and tribulations in this great Zion you have become a prominent factor in the progress of a great state of the greatest nation on the globe. Your part in the civilization, peopling and settling of this one-time wilderness has not been small, and Utah's history could not be written without saying glorious and great things of you and the part you have taken.

You have been benefited by coming to Zion, many of you have become affluent, occupying positions high in the social, political and commercial world, and most of you are in fairly good circumstances; a life of struggle, toil and tribulations in land of the free and the home of the brave, where the stars and stripes guarantee protection to every loyal citizen, has developed the best in you and you have profited by it; you are becoming educated and are educating your children to become great, good, and noble citizens, and life before you takes on a rosy hue. Yet, though you have been greatly benefited, you have given more to this great country. You have overcome great difficulties; you staid here and fought Indians and wild animals; you baffled and overcome all the struggles of pioneer life; you have worked earnestly and struggled hard, and these blossoming valleys with their thousands of miles of ditches; these mountains covered with sheep herds, and punctured with mines that give out monthly untold wealth; Utah's pleasant cities and magnificent business buildings, all indicate what you, with others, have accomplished, and for these things we welcome you. You have shown yourselves as worthy the confidence, love and esteem of all people, and Logan and Cache Valley citizens recognize your worth.

You do well to celebrate the anniversary of the gospel into your countries, and there should be no limit to your feelings of thankfulness on this occasion. While there was and is much to love in your native homes across the ocean, and while you may have had hard times in your career on this side, yet most of you are better off in every respect than you could have ever hoped to be had you remained there. Let all hearts respond to the joyousness of the occasion and enter freely into the spirit of the celebration. "Let your love flame anew and your hopes grow bright, and joy all your being thrill." Enjoy the comradeship that will be yours, grasp heartily the hands of your friends, attend all the meetings, listen to the band concerts, go to the tabernacle, and hear the addresses, see the ball game, visit the great educational institutions located here and see where your girls and boys are being educated; look upon the profusion of decorations in your honor and believe that your coming has been anticipated with pleasure.

The city and all things in it are yours. May your stay with us be as pleasant as you could desire and may richest blessings be yours while within our gates. All hail to the Scandinavians.

The New Bank.

The Articles of Incorporation of the Cache Valley Banking Company were filed with the County Clerk on Monday of this week and the opening of the new bank is announced for Monday, June 15th. The offices of the Utah Mortgage Loan Corporation have been entirely remodeled, modern bank fixtures have been added, and the new bank opens for business under most favorable conditions, and with assurances of a large patronage.

The stockholders are for the most part Utah men, in fact, Cache Valley capitalists are sufficiently interested and arrangements are already consummated, whereby ample facilities are assured for all demands of legitimate banking and for furnishing capital whenever required for the upbuilding of Cache Valley and Utah. It might be added that all of the furniture of the new bank, as well as the lithographic work and the signs that adorn the building are products of Utah workmen.

A general banking business will be conducted, and a special feature is made of the Savings Department, where deposits will be received in amounts of One Dollar and upwards and interest paid on same, compounded quarterly.

The officers of the bank are Thomas Oldham, president; Geo. H. Champ, vice-president; A. H. Thompson, second vice-president; J. E. Shepard, cashier, who with Hyrum Hayball, Wm. L. Allen and Frank Knox form the directory.

The general loan business of the Utah Mortgage Loan Corporation will be conducted as heretofore in their quarters on Tithing Office corner, but will be entirely separate and distinct from that of the bank.

The business of this Corporation was established in 1892, incorporated in 1896 under the laws of the State of Utah and has steadily grown from year to year until now it enjoys the largest farm loan business of any concern in the State, and is better prepared than ever before to meet the demands of its customers.

The Utah Mortgage Loan Corporation is at all times ready to aid in every possible way the advancement of Utah and her people.
